

A narrow, cobblestone street in a European city at dusk. The street is flanked by historic buildings with ornate facades and arched windows. Street lamps with glowing yellow lights are visible along the street. The sky is a soft, hazy blue.

FORGET ME NOT

LESS I STRAY FROM YOUR LOVE

A 30 Day Poetry Journal

30 DAY POETRY JOURNAL
ALL THE PROMPT YOU COULD NEED TO START WRITING
POETRY

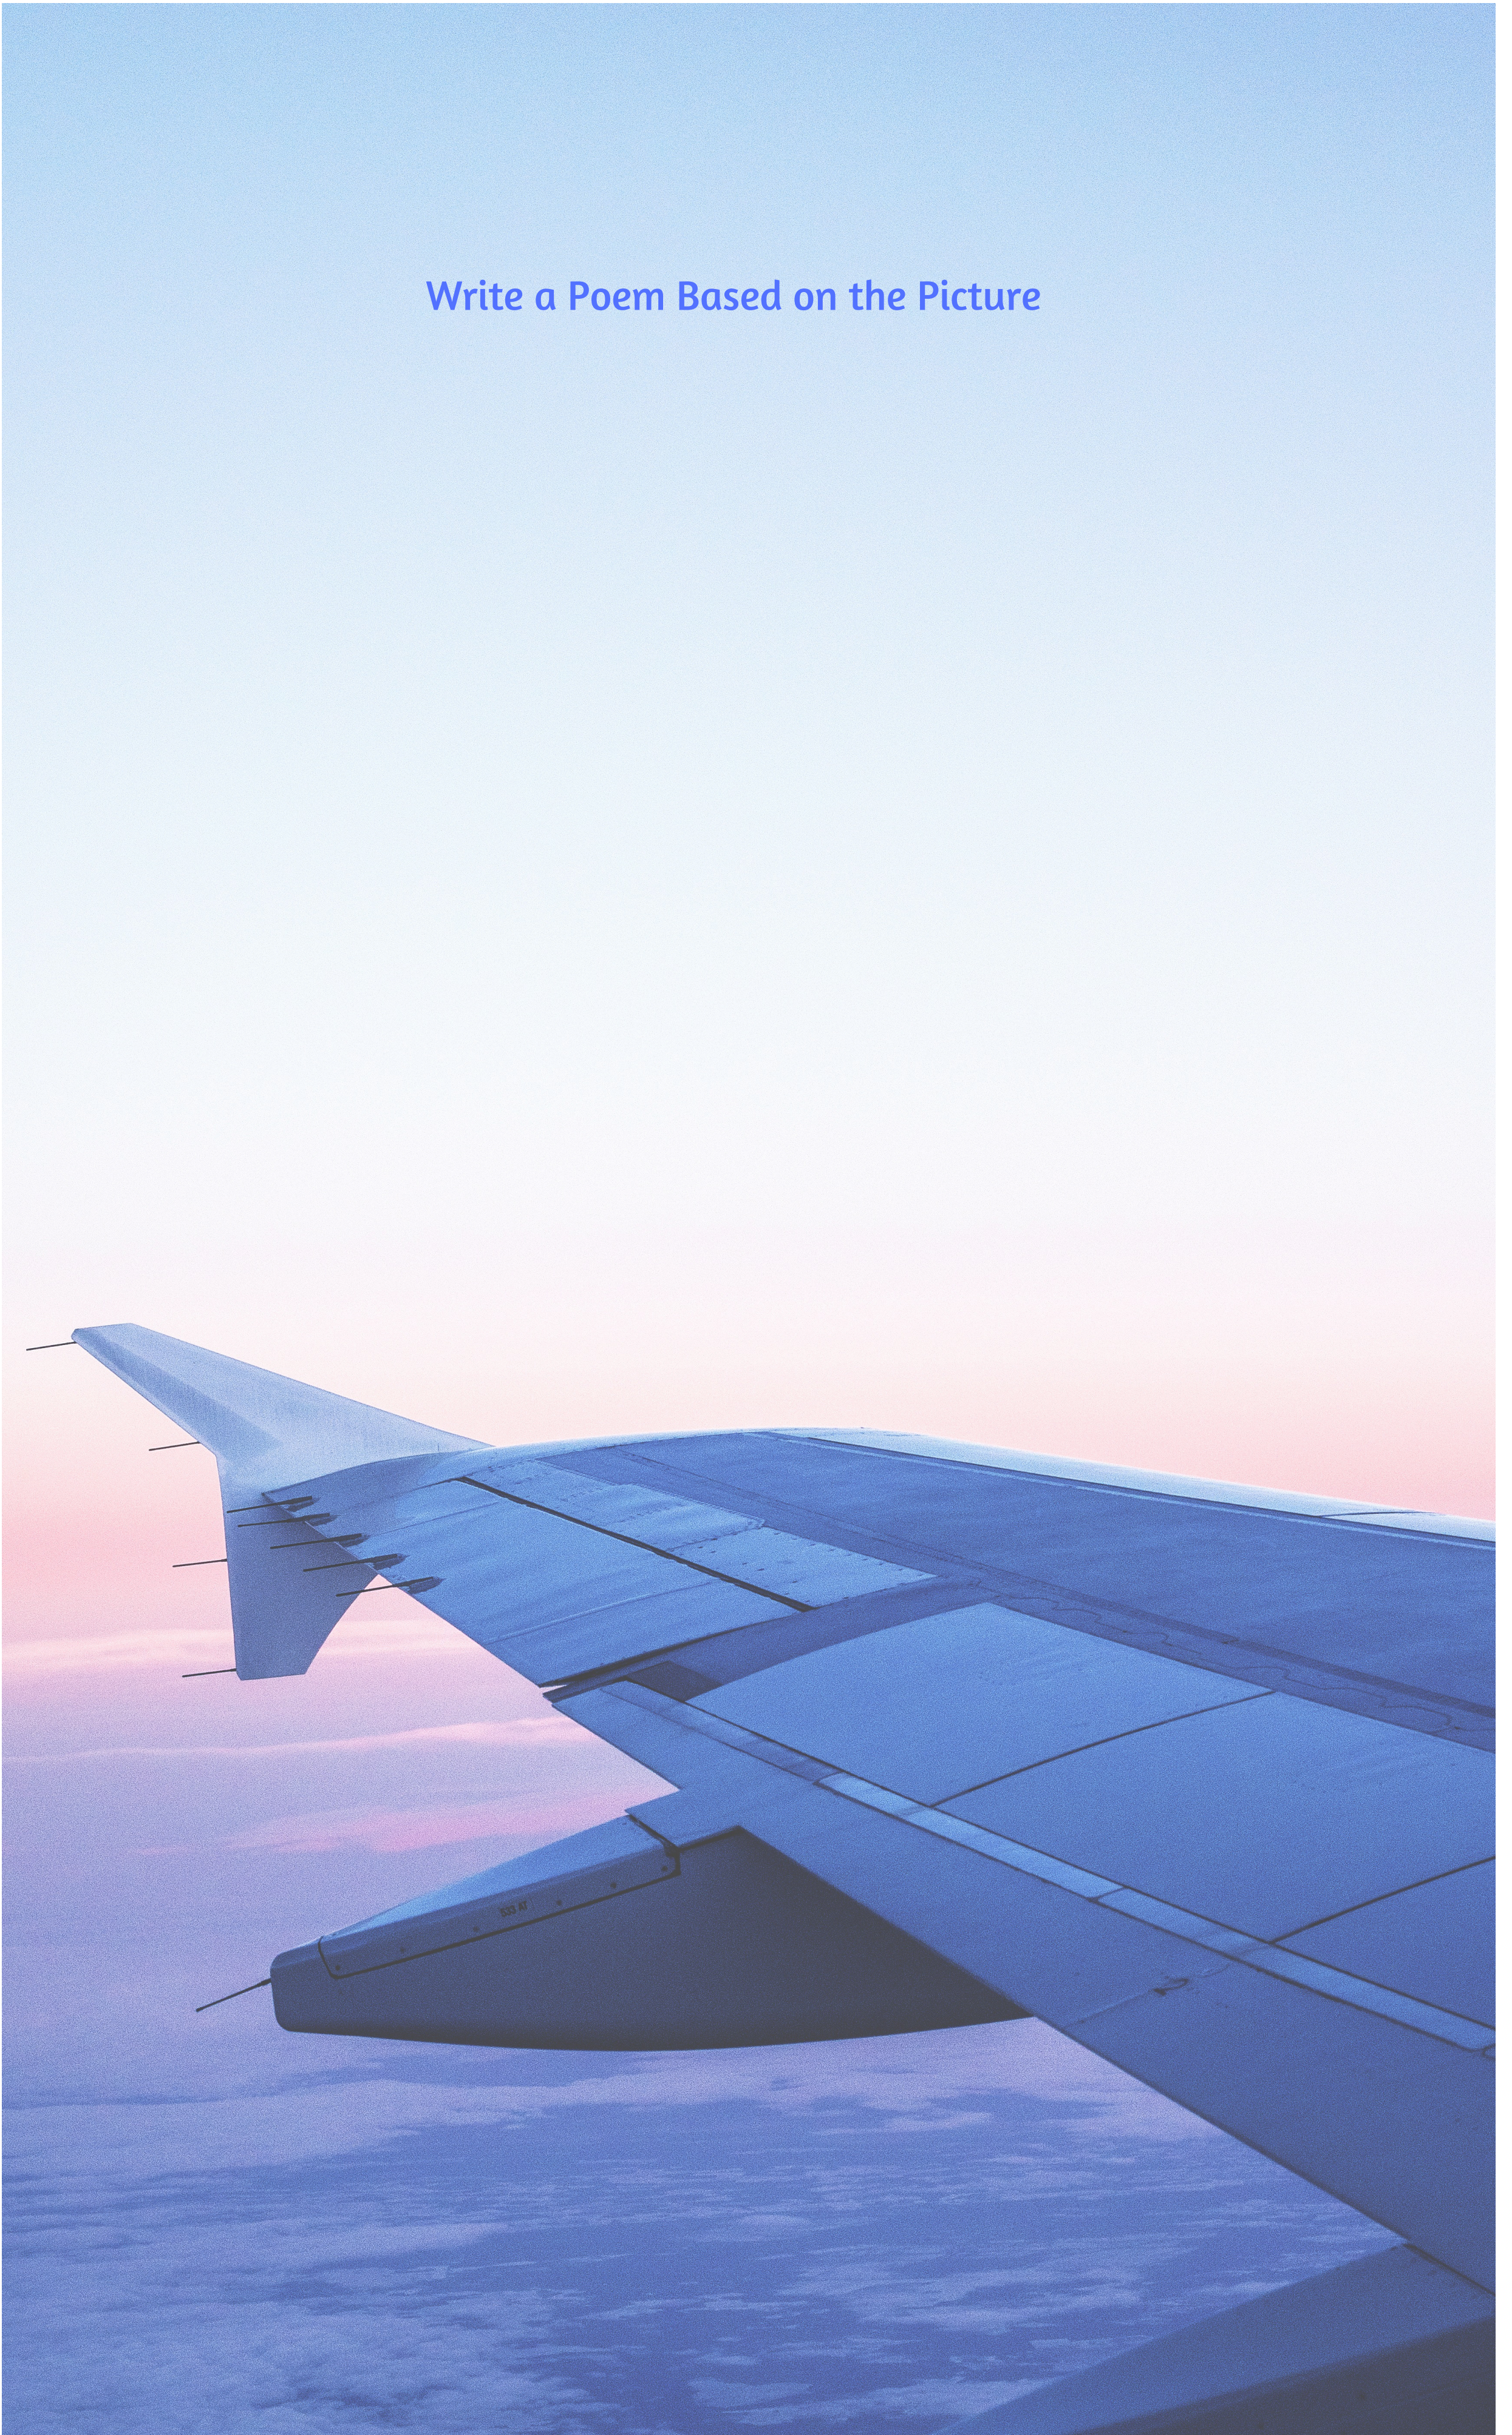

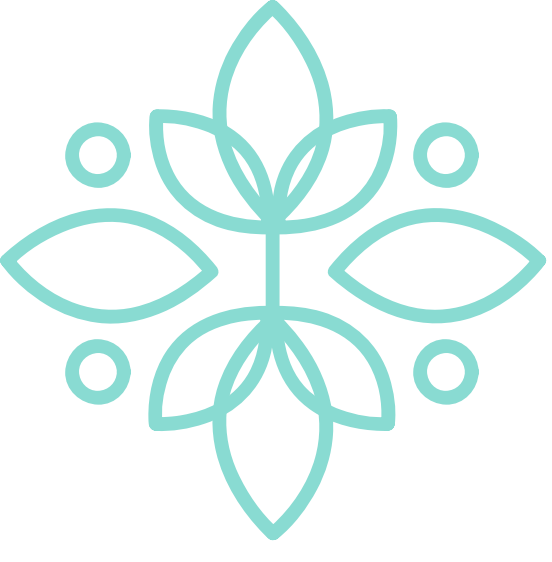

AUTHENTIC POETS

Let The Words Flow

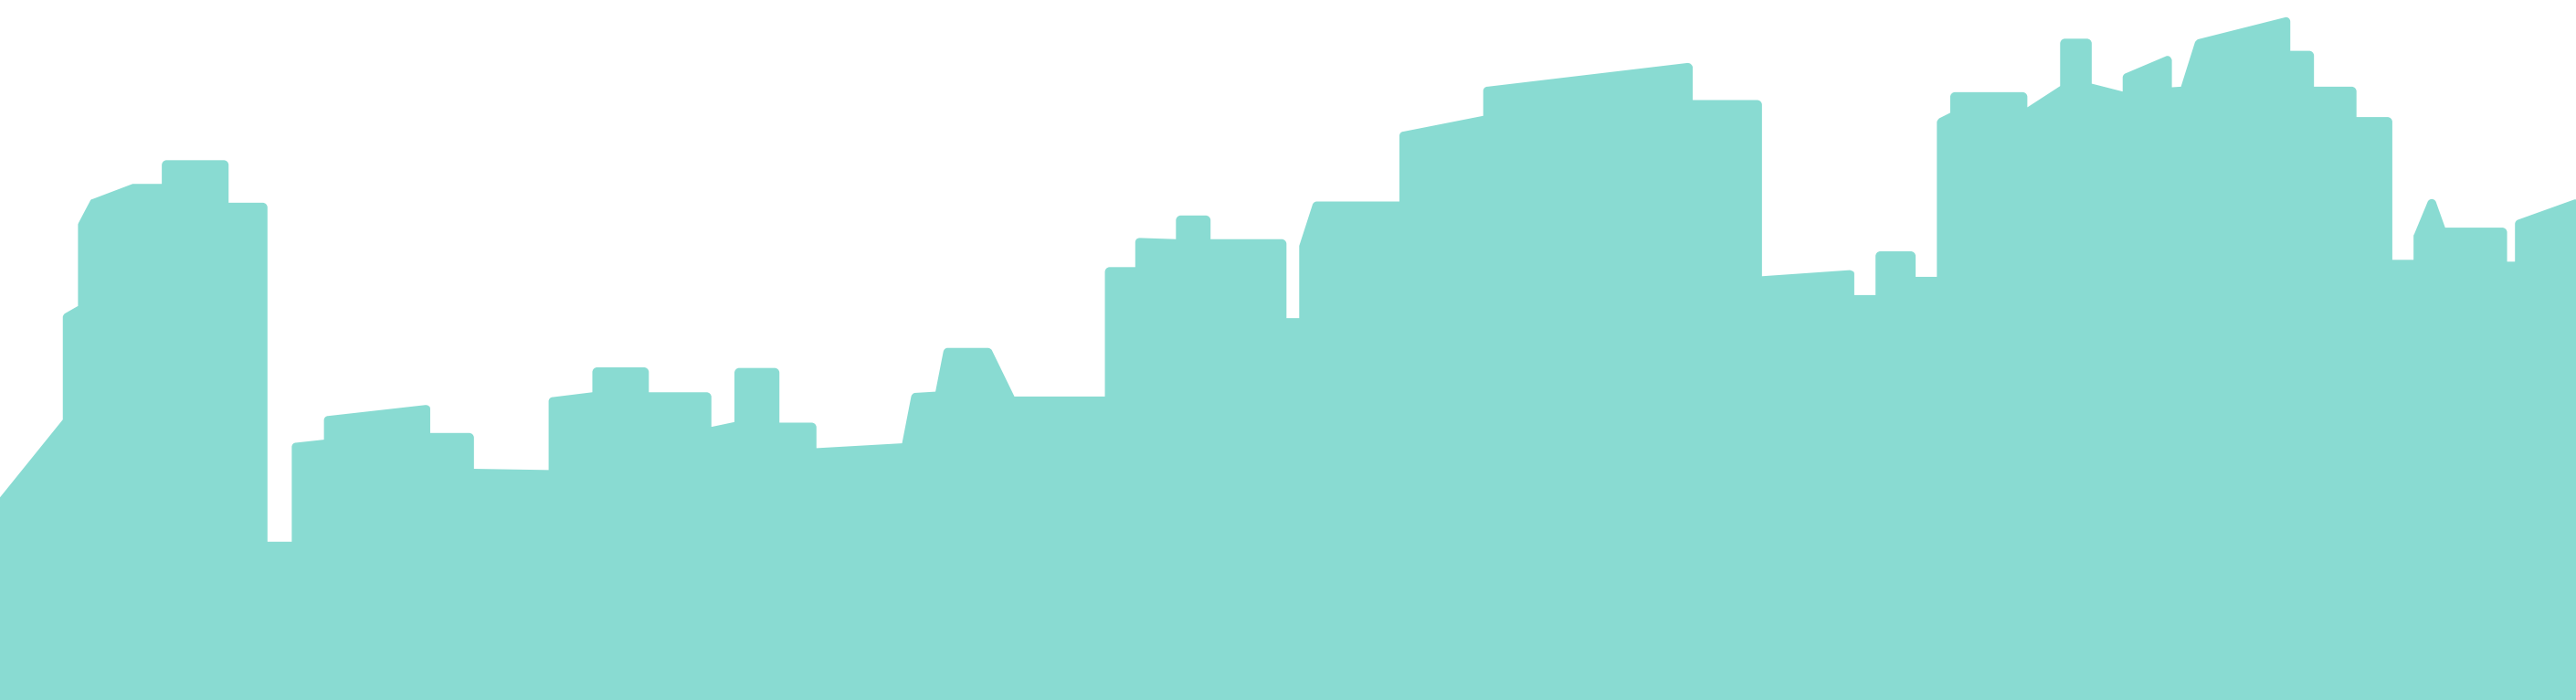

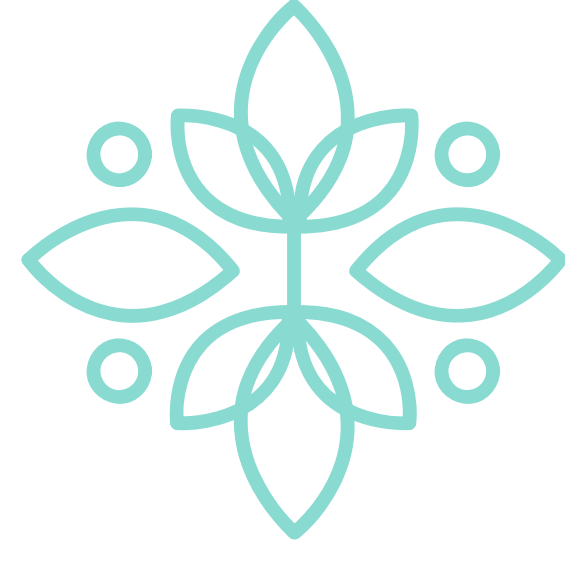

Write a Poem Based on the Picture

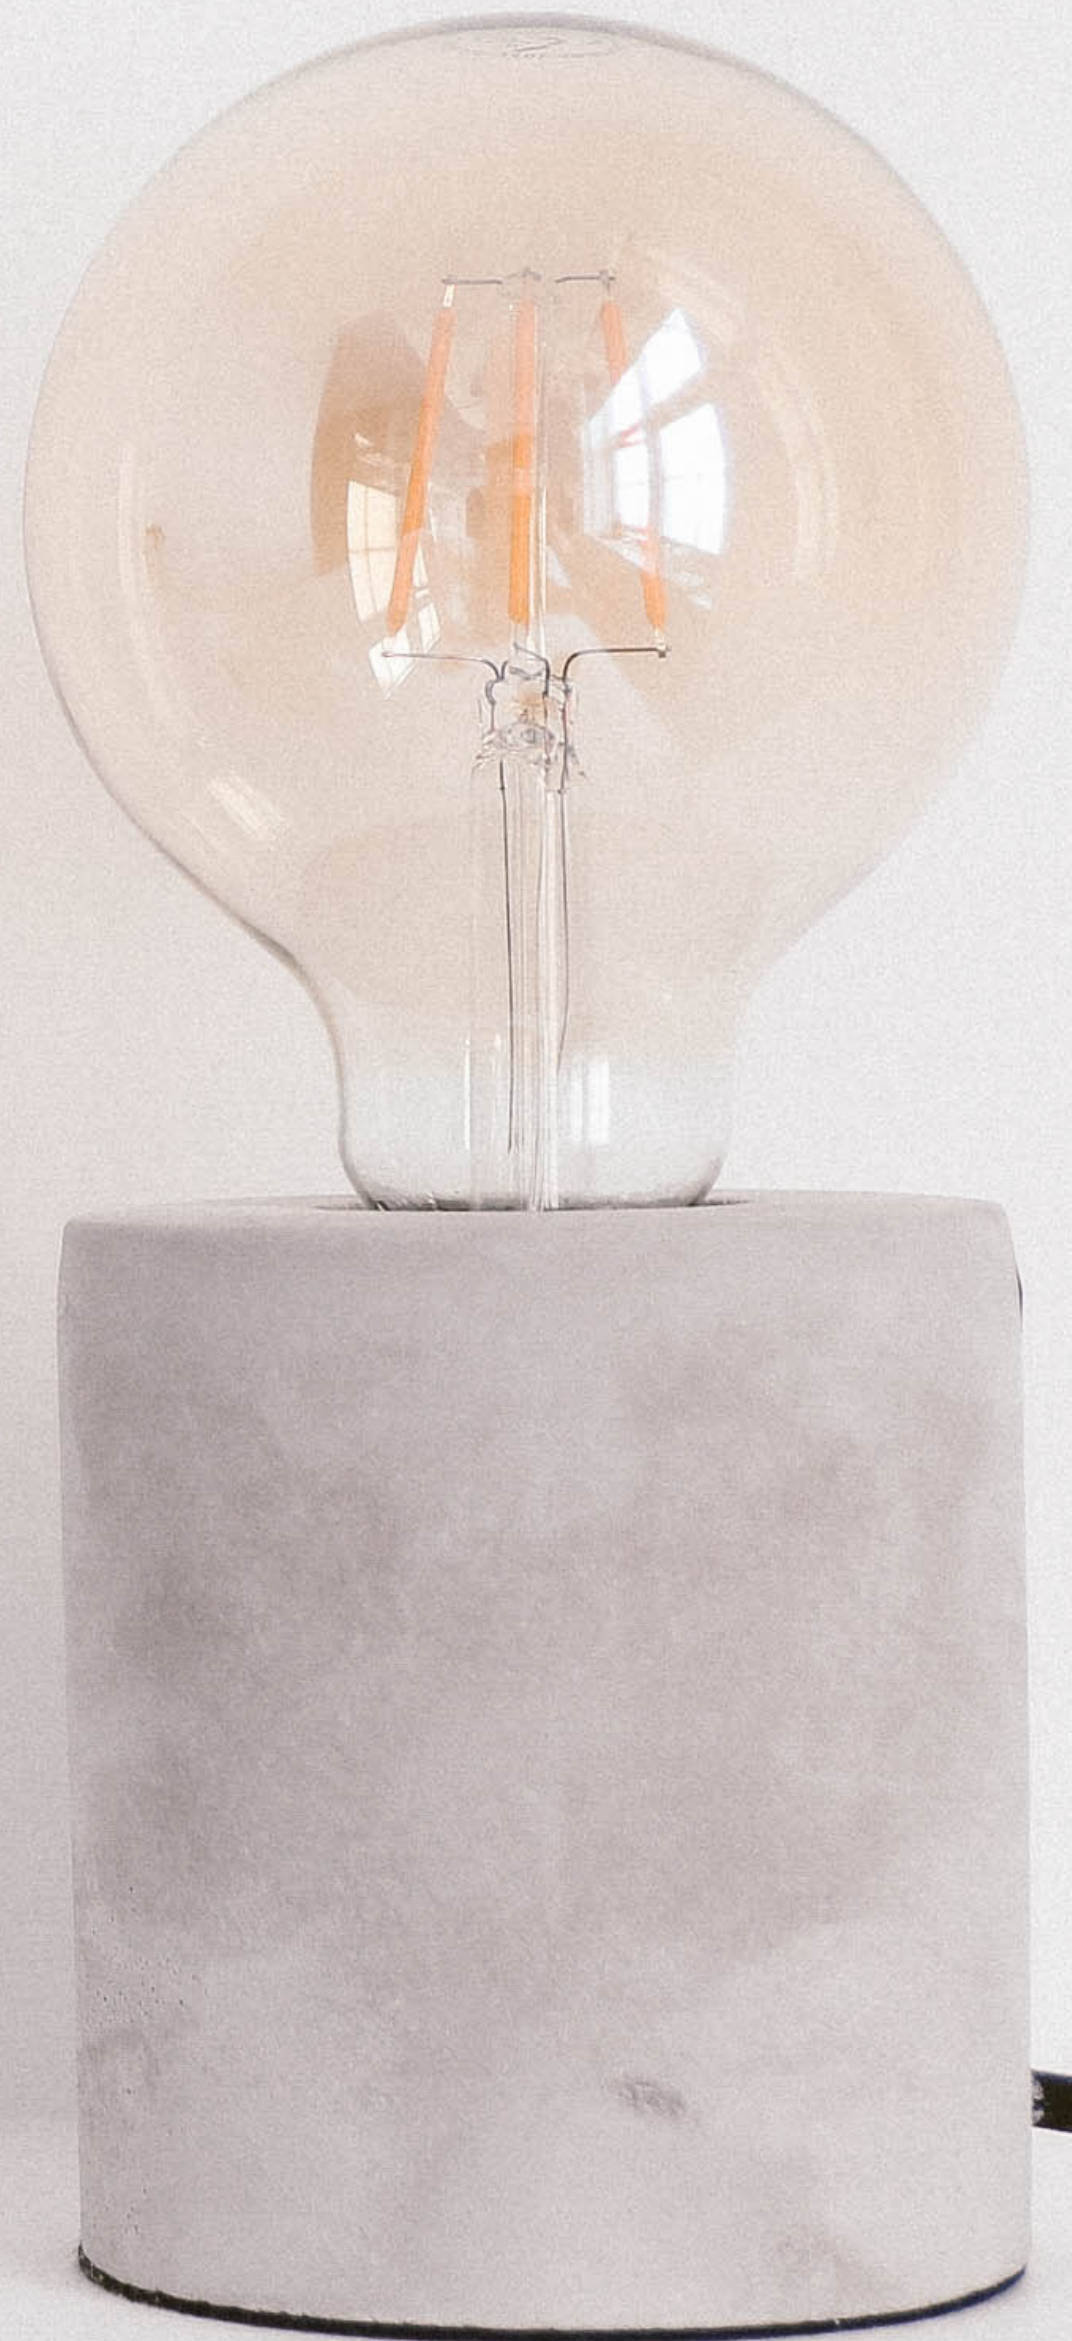

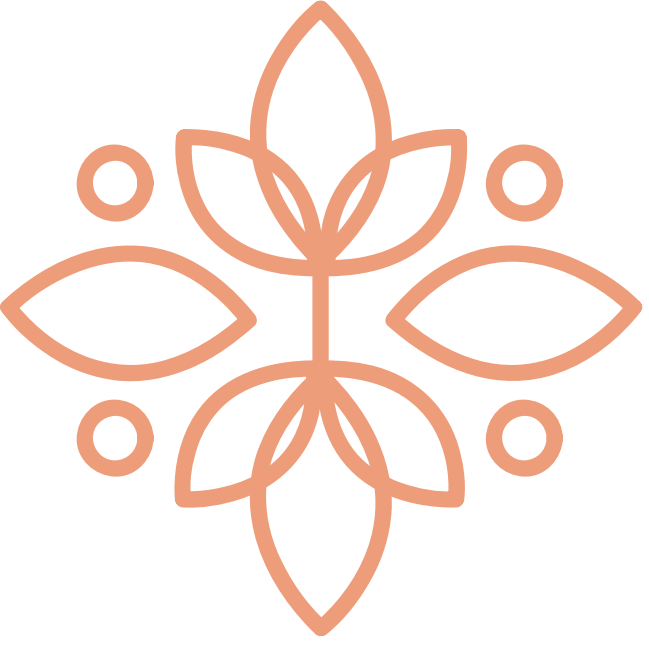

Above the sky I used to hate...

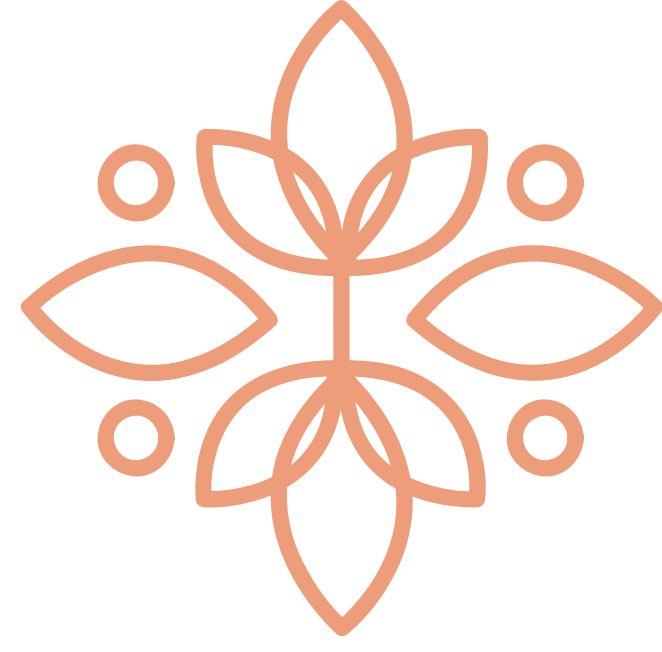

My life is empty space waiting for the light to come

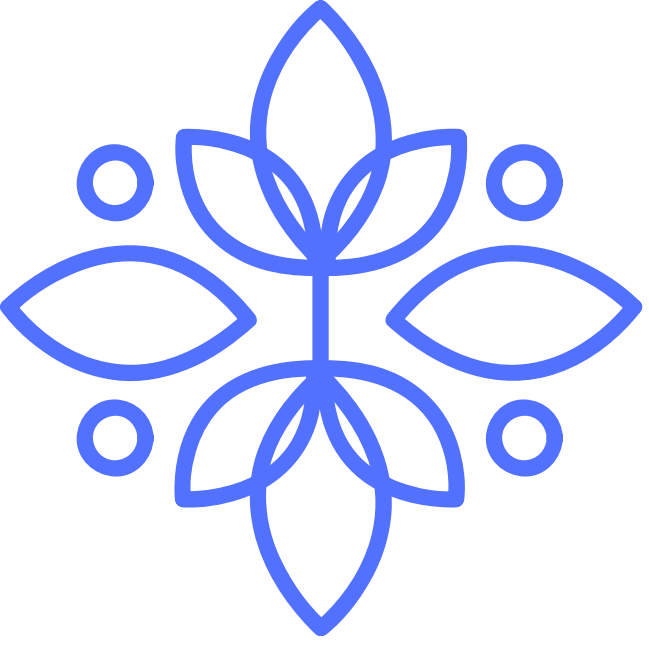

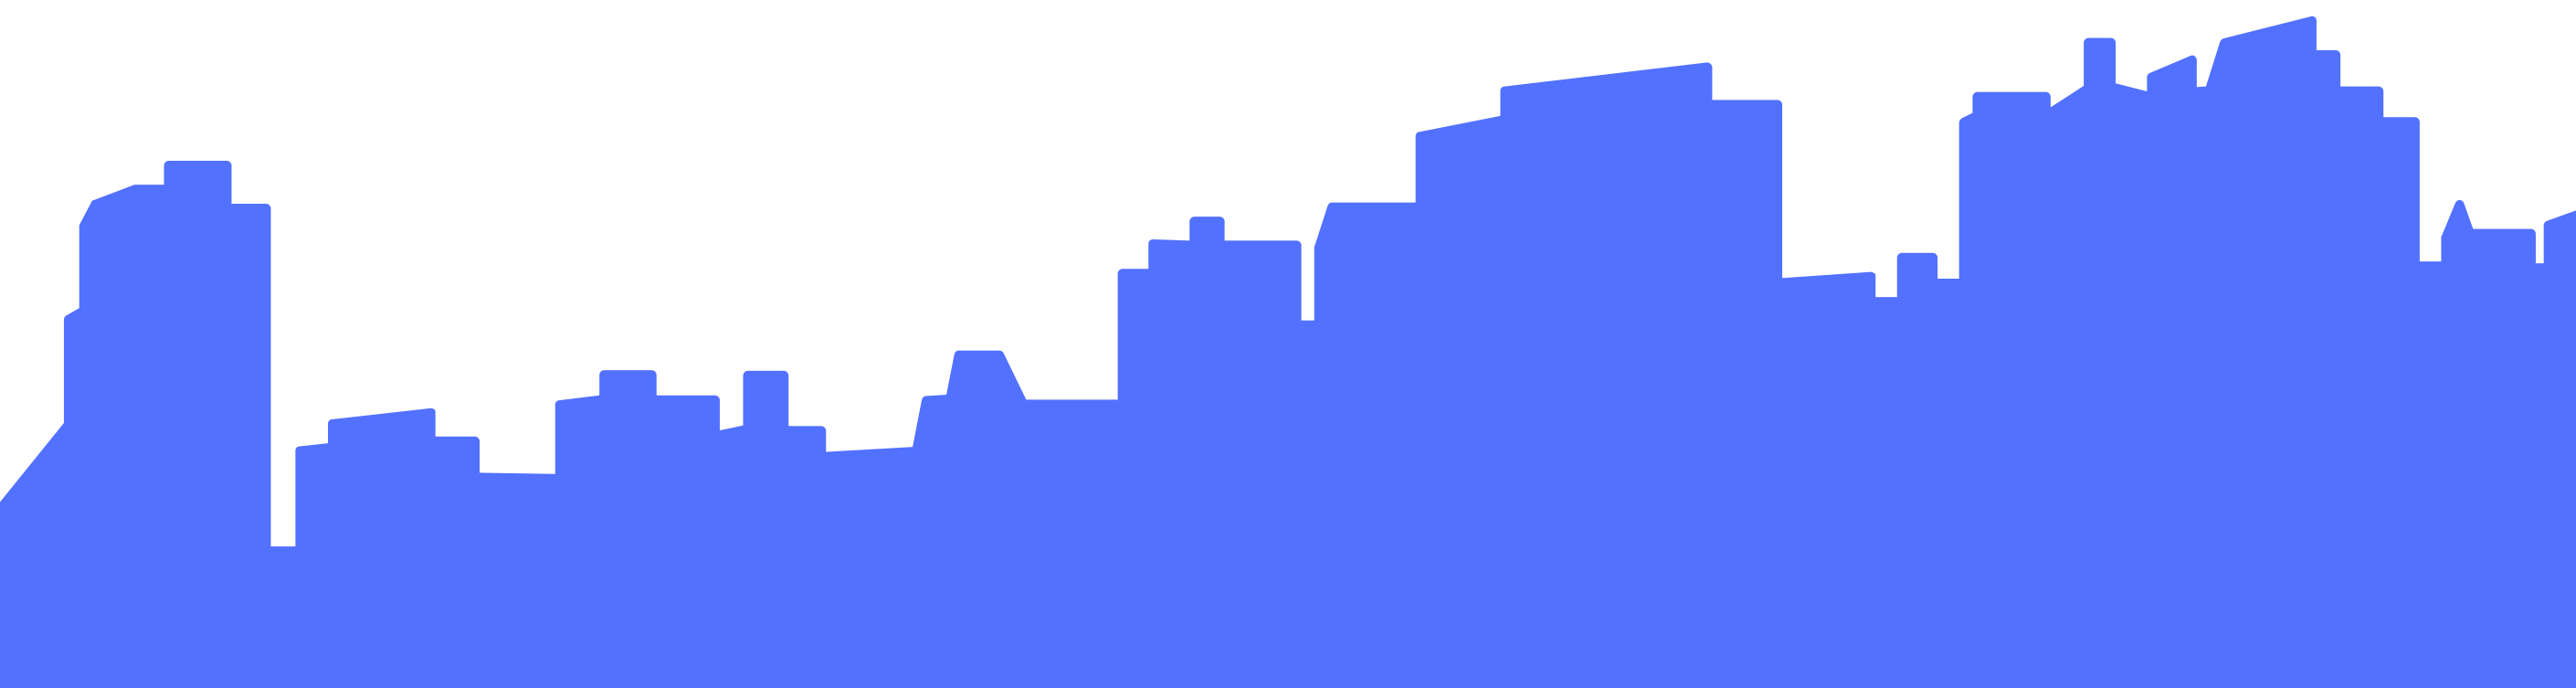

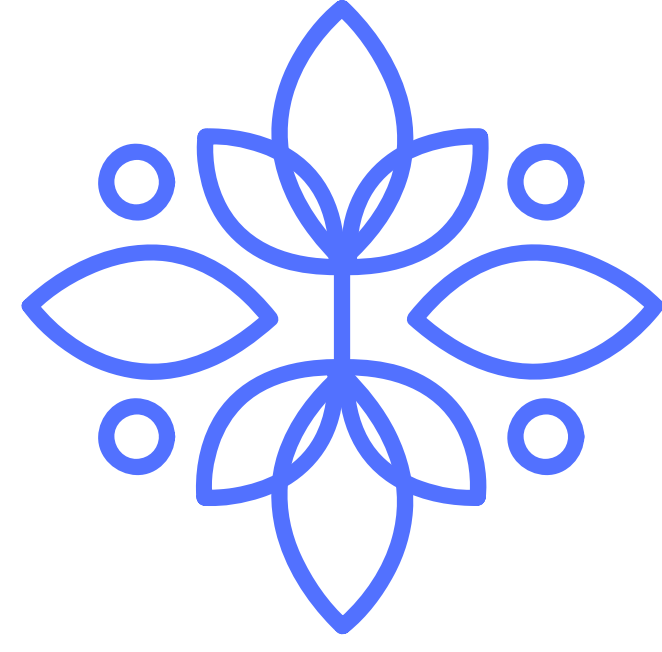

To breathe is only the wind

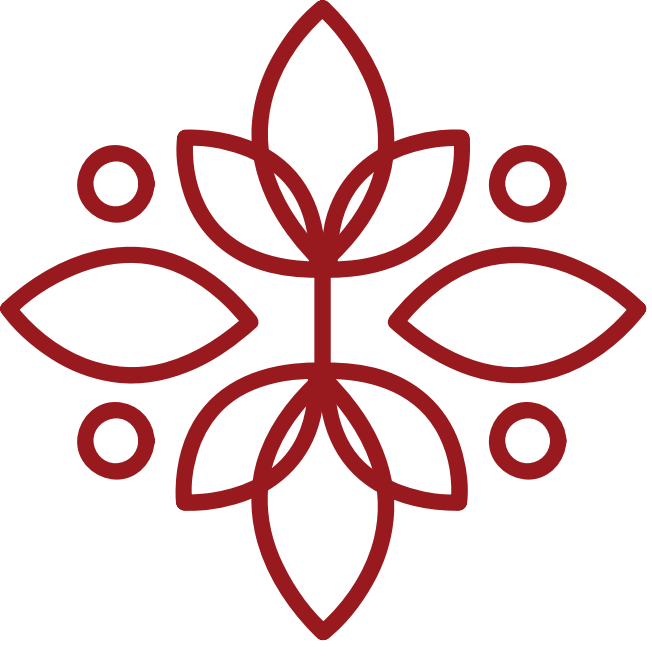

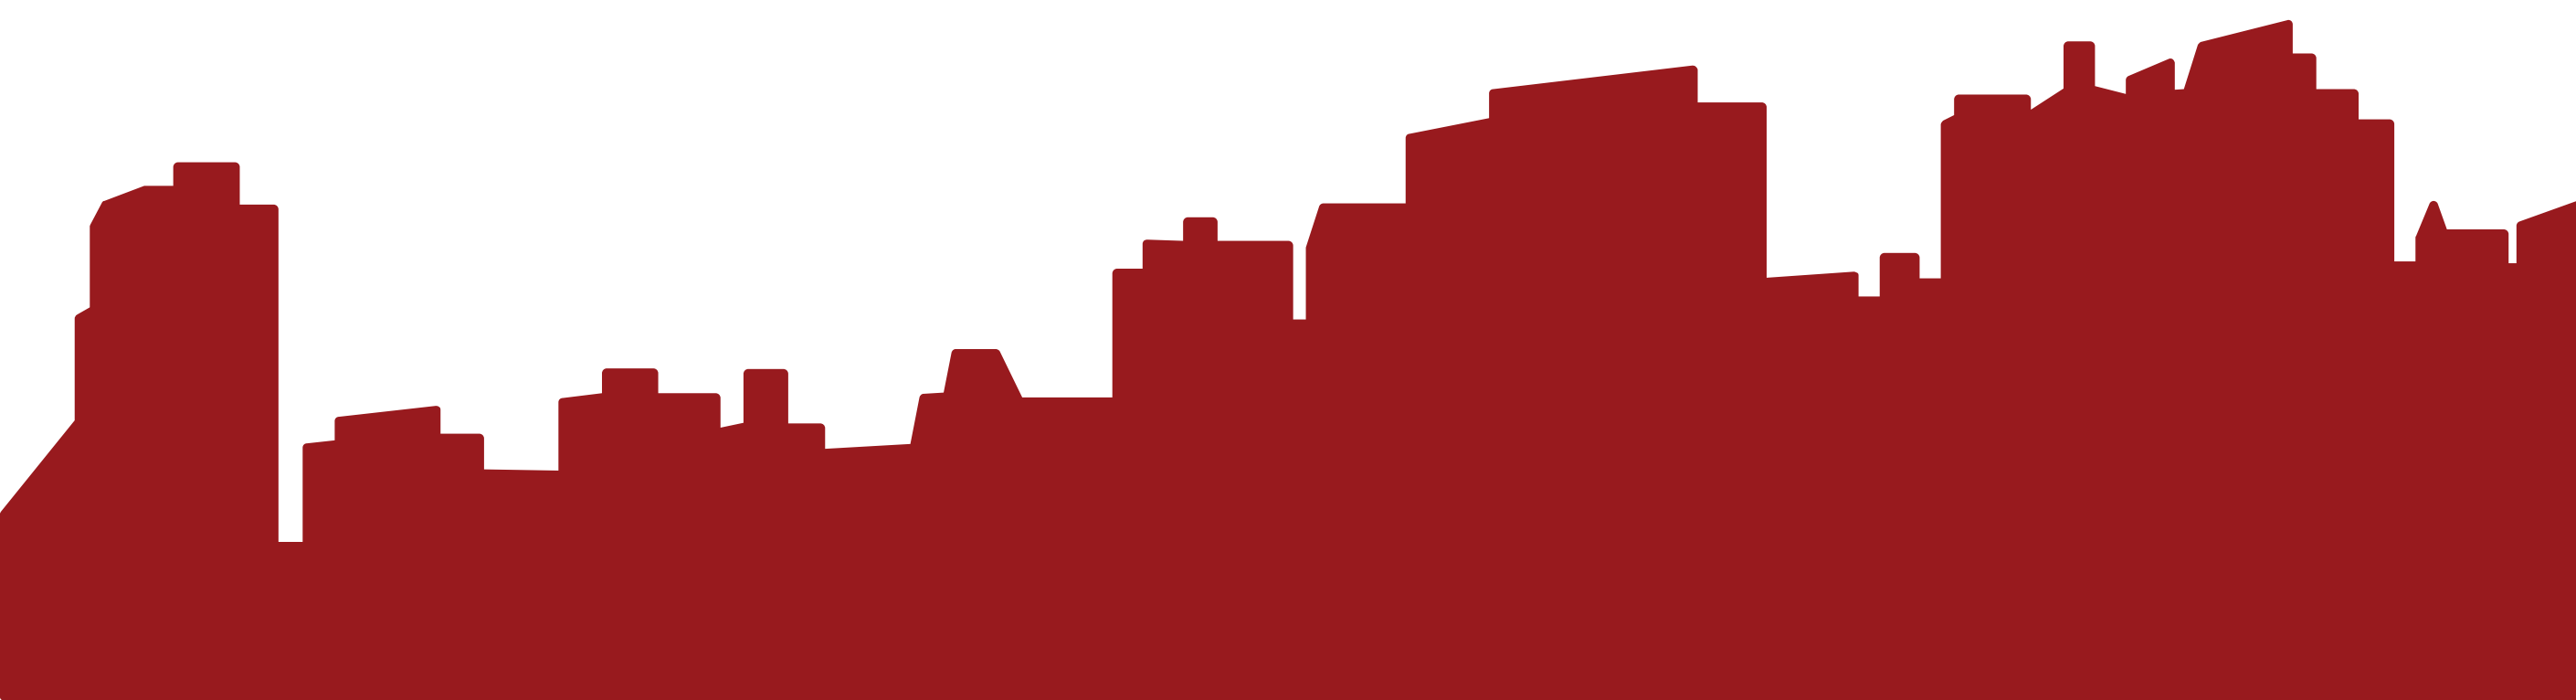

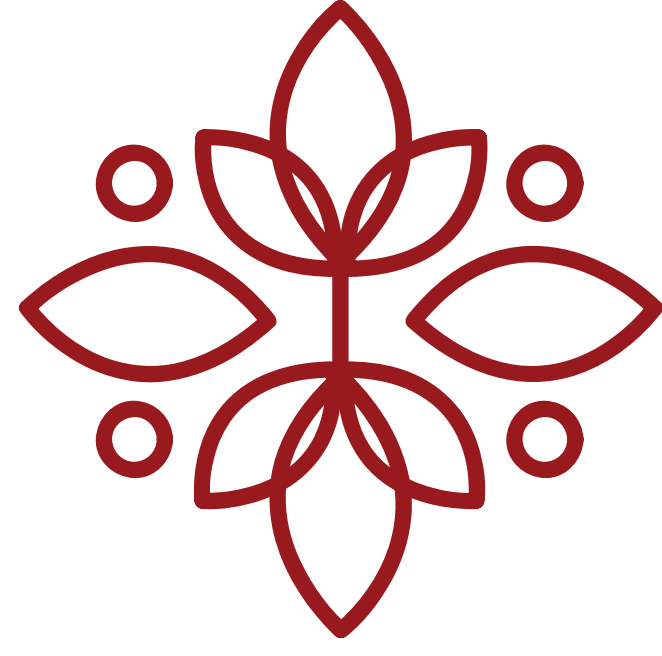

Unraveling my mind to

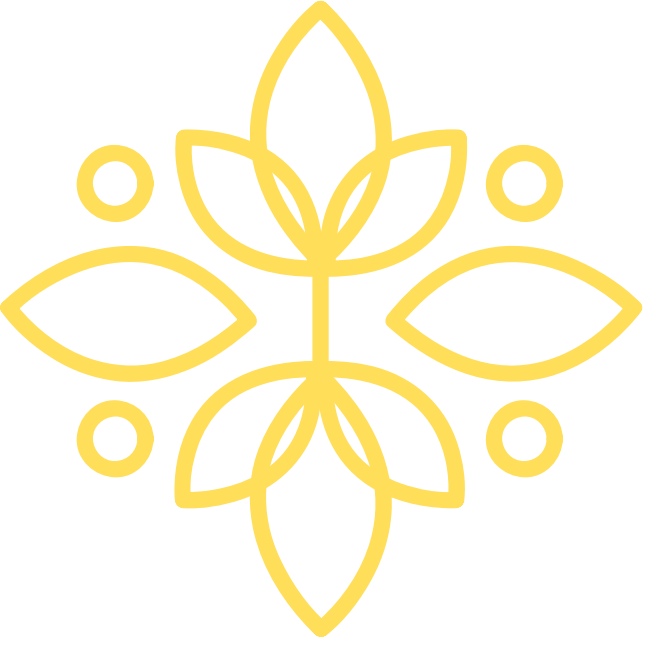

My fears have doubts

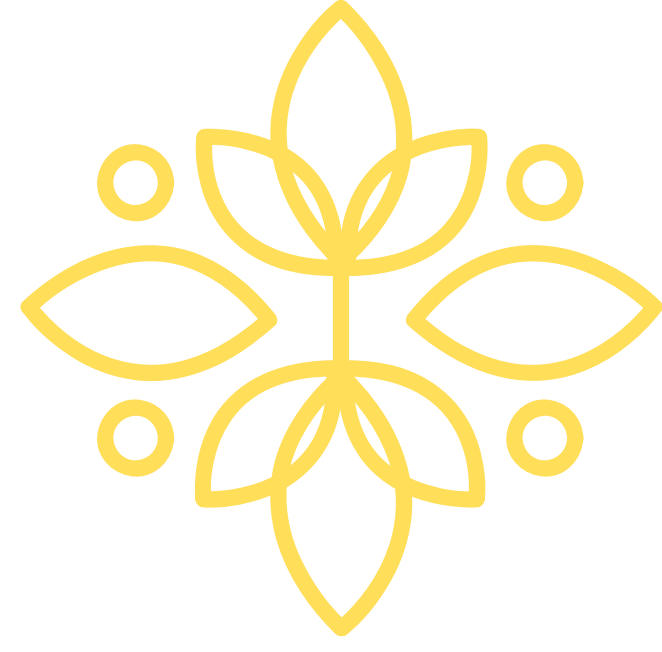

A RECIPE FOR DIASTER

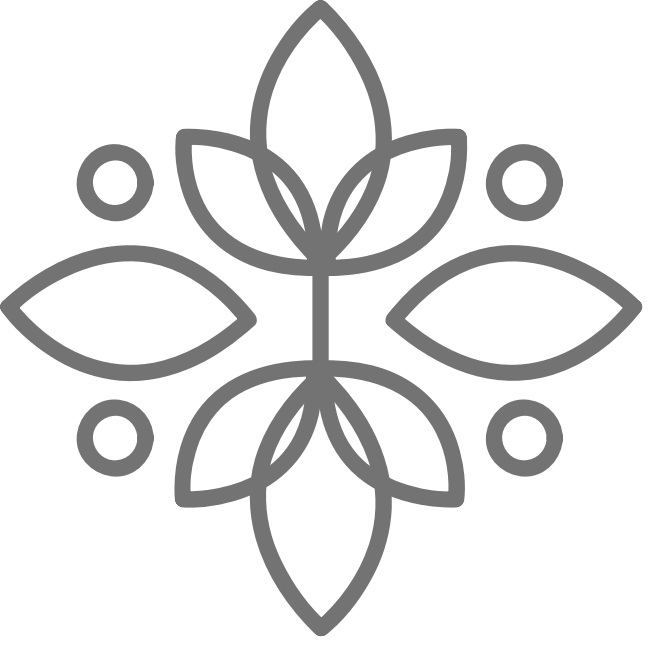

My Sunday Mornings

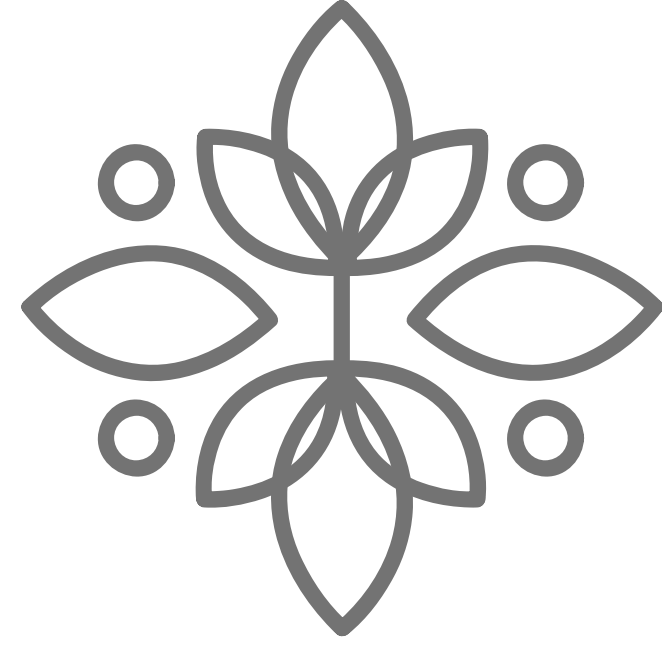

Woes from the passenger seat

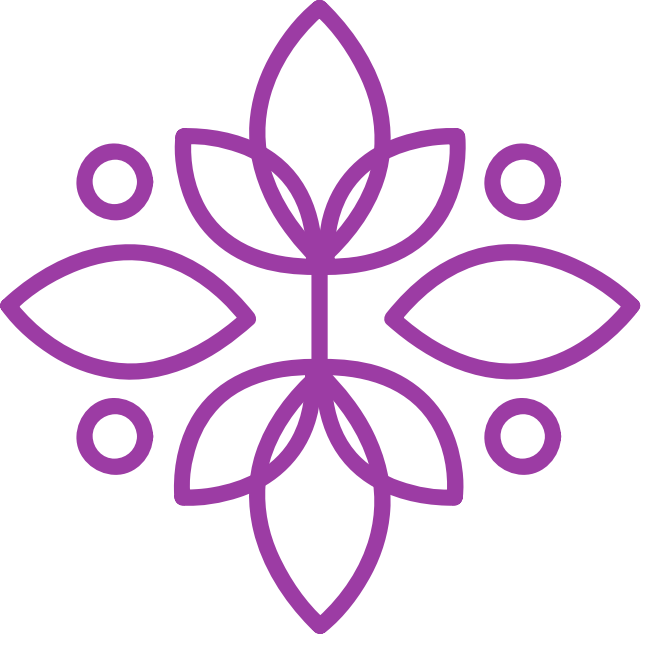

On Rainy Days

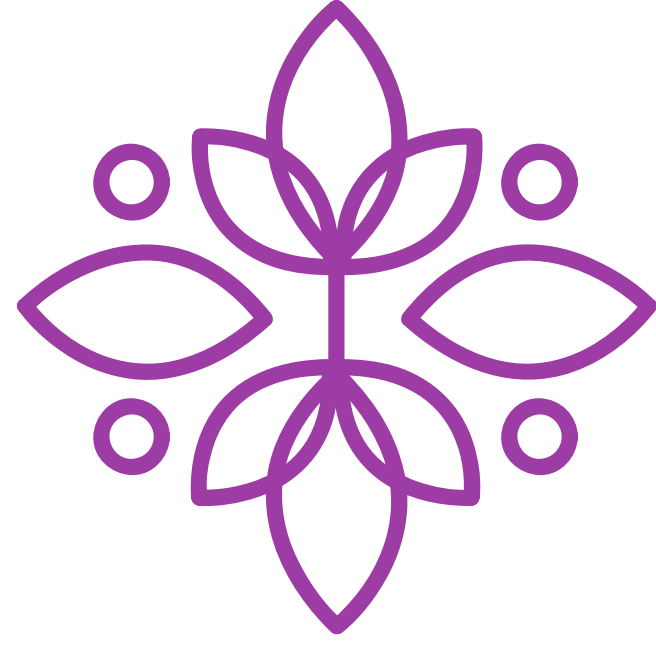

Wishes on the wings of my soul

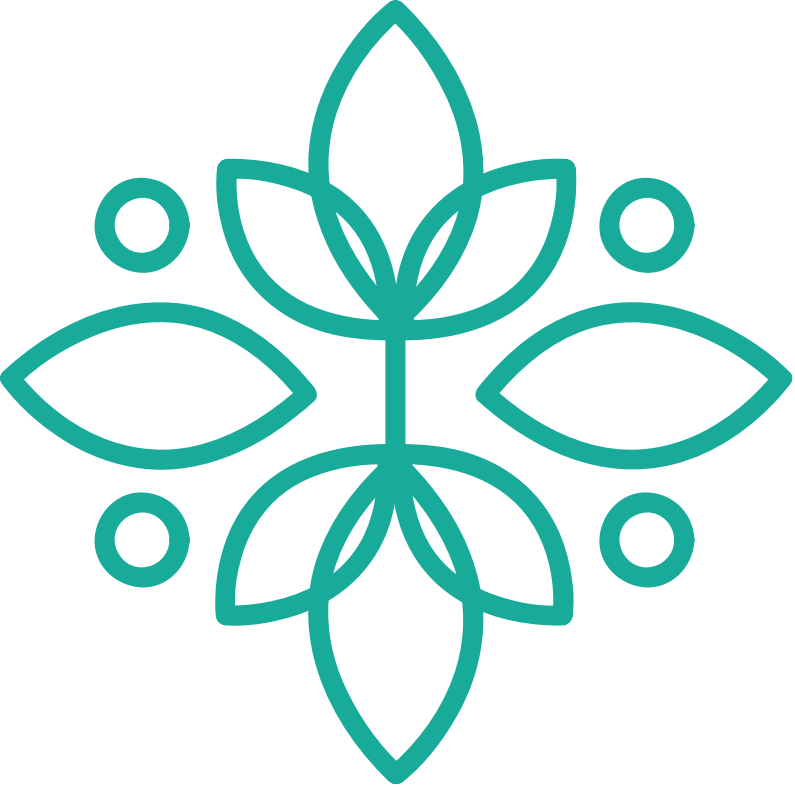

Trusting in Your Lies

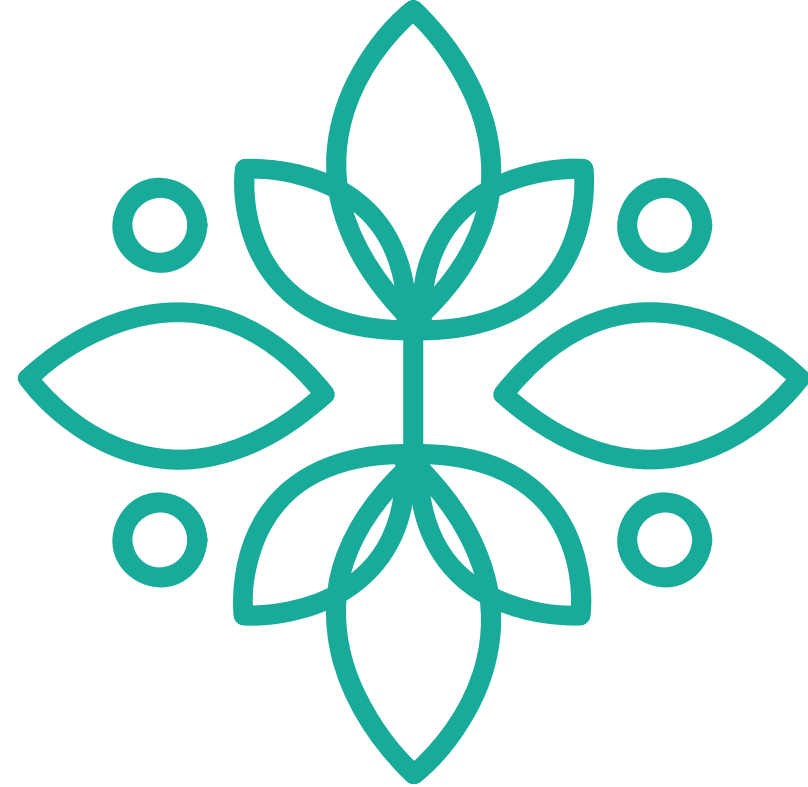

My last Goodbye

You are my favorite spice

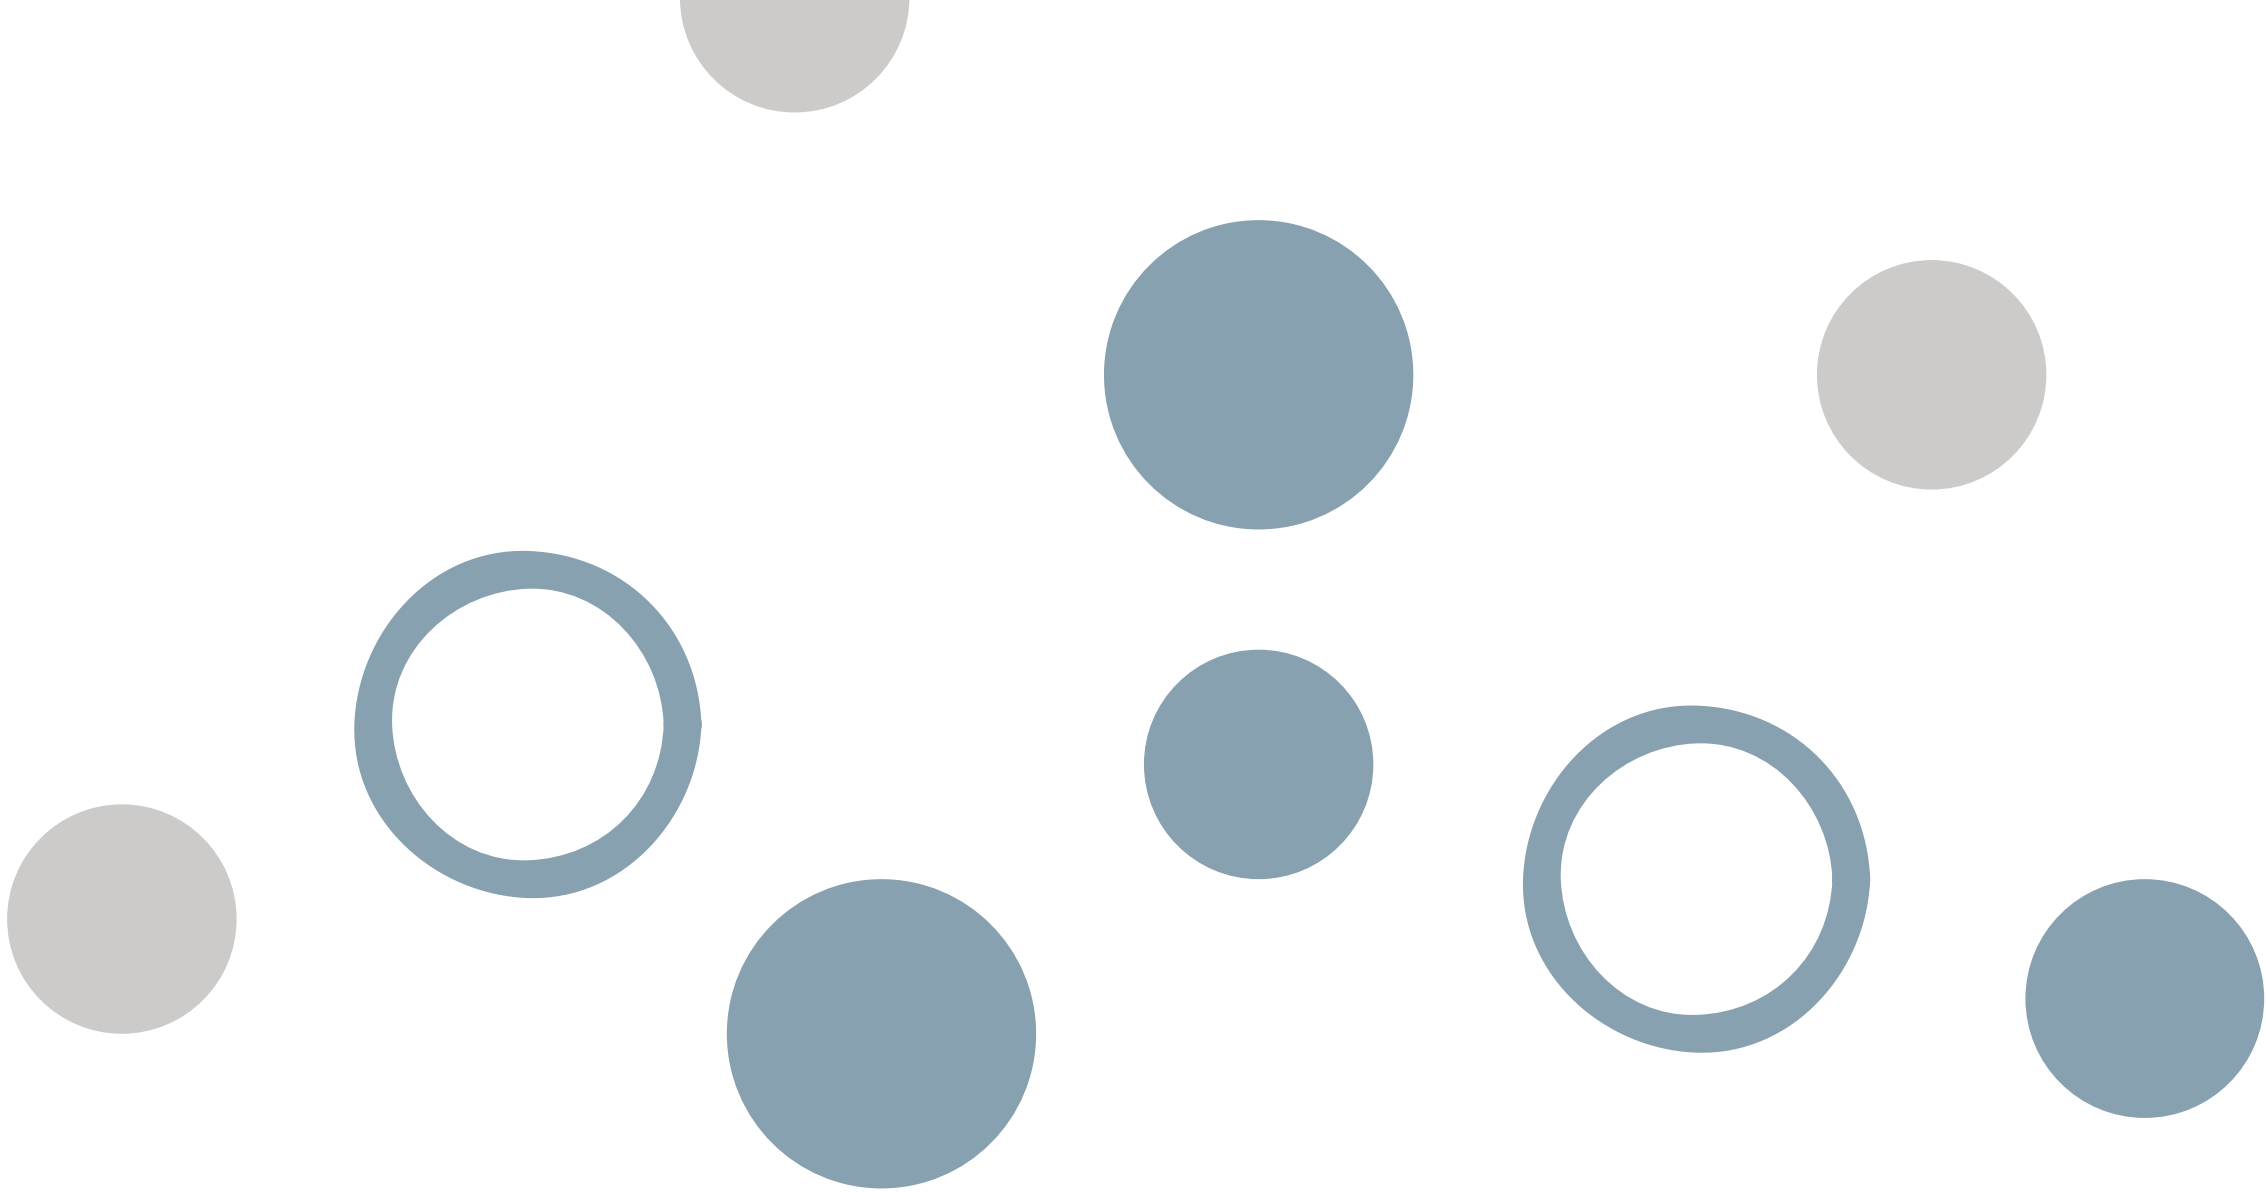

The next ten pages will be your own creation. You have practiced writing poems on prompts and titles we gave you. Now find inspiration in your surroundings and let your pen guide you on a new path.

Write, draw, or just doodle.

"Creativity takes courage" - Henri Matisse

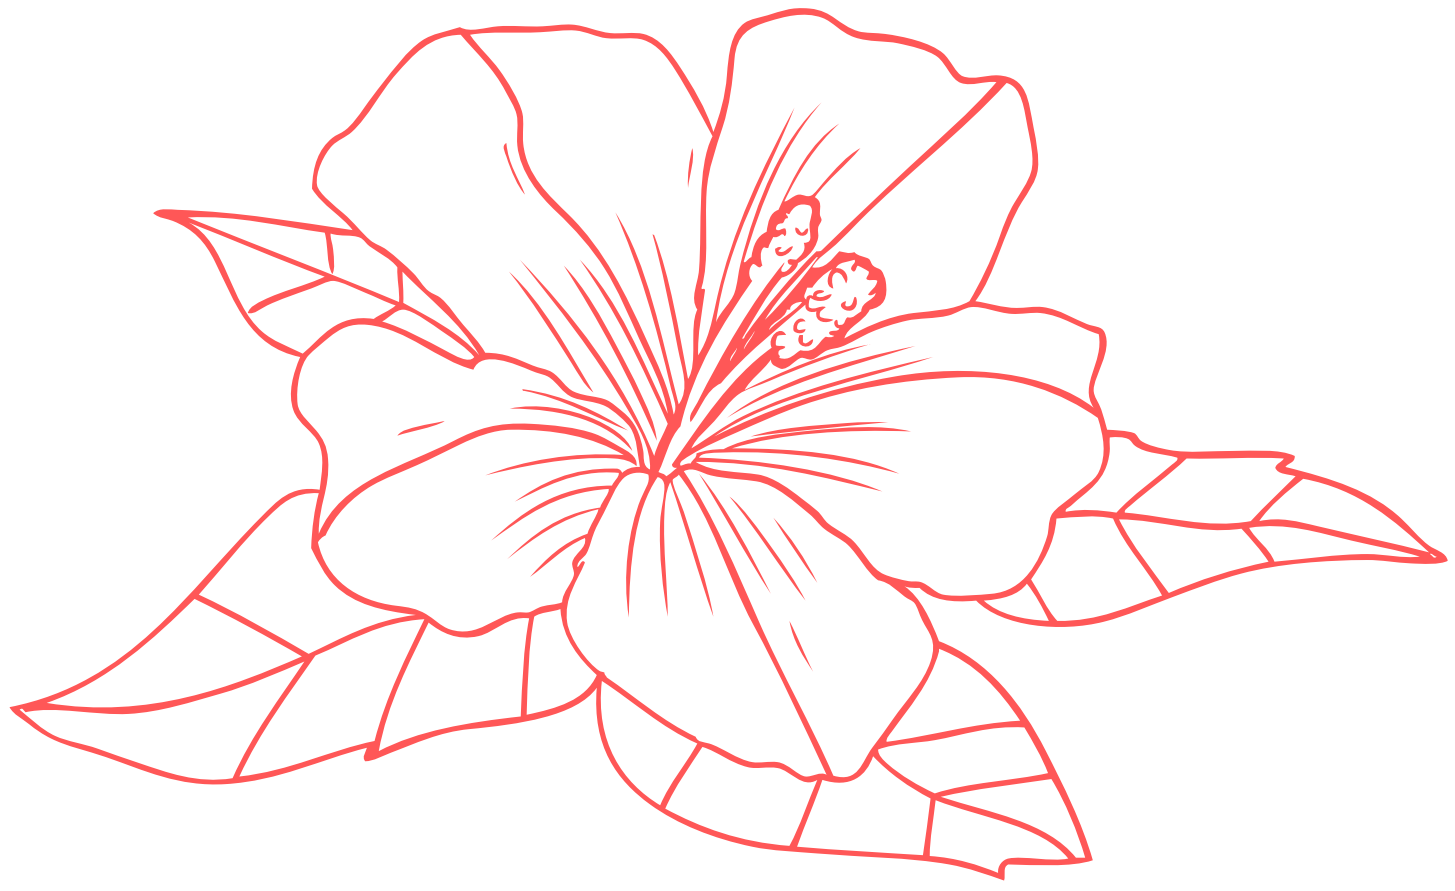

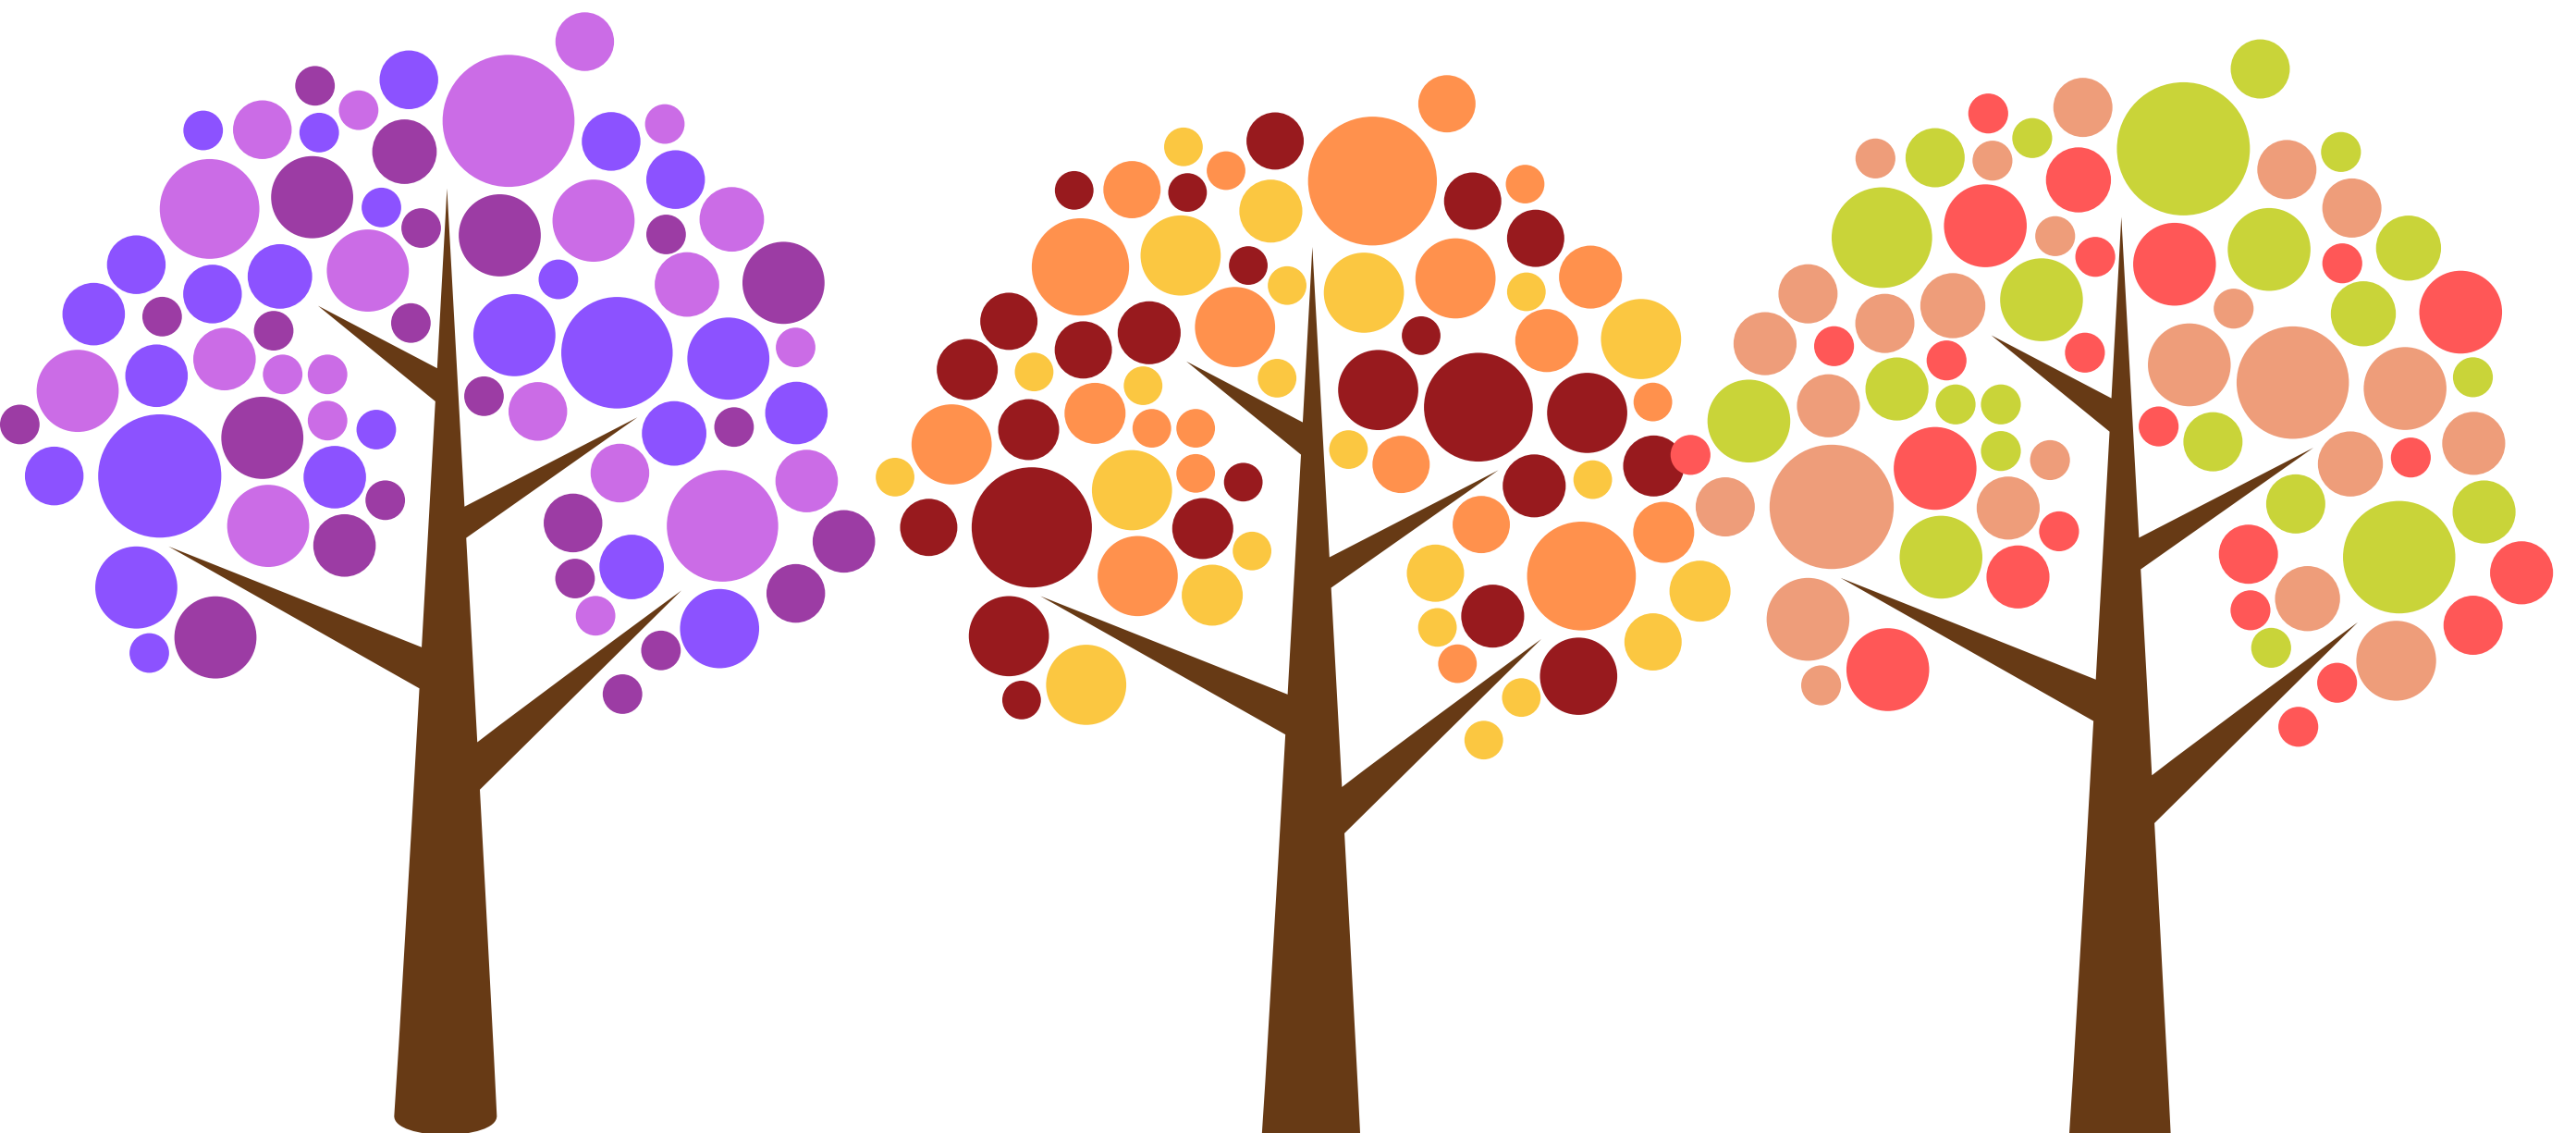

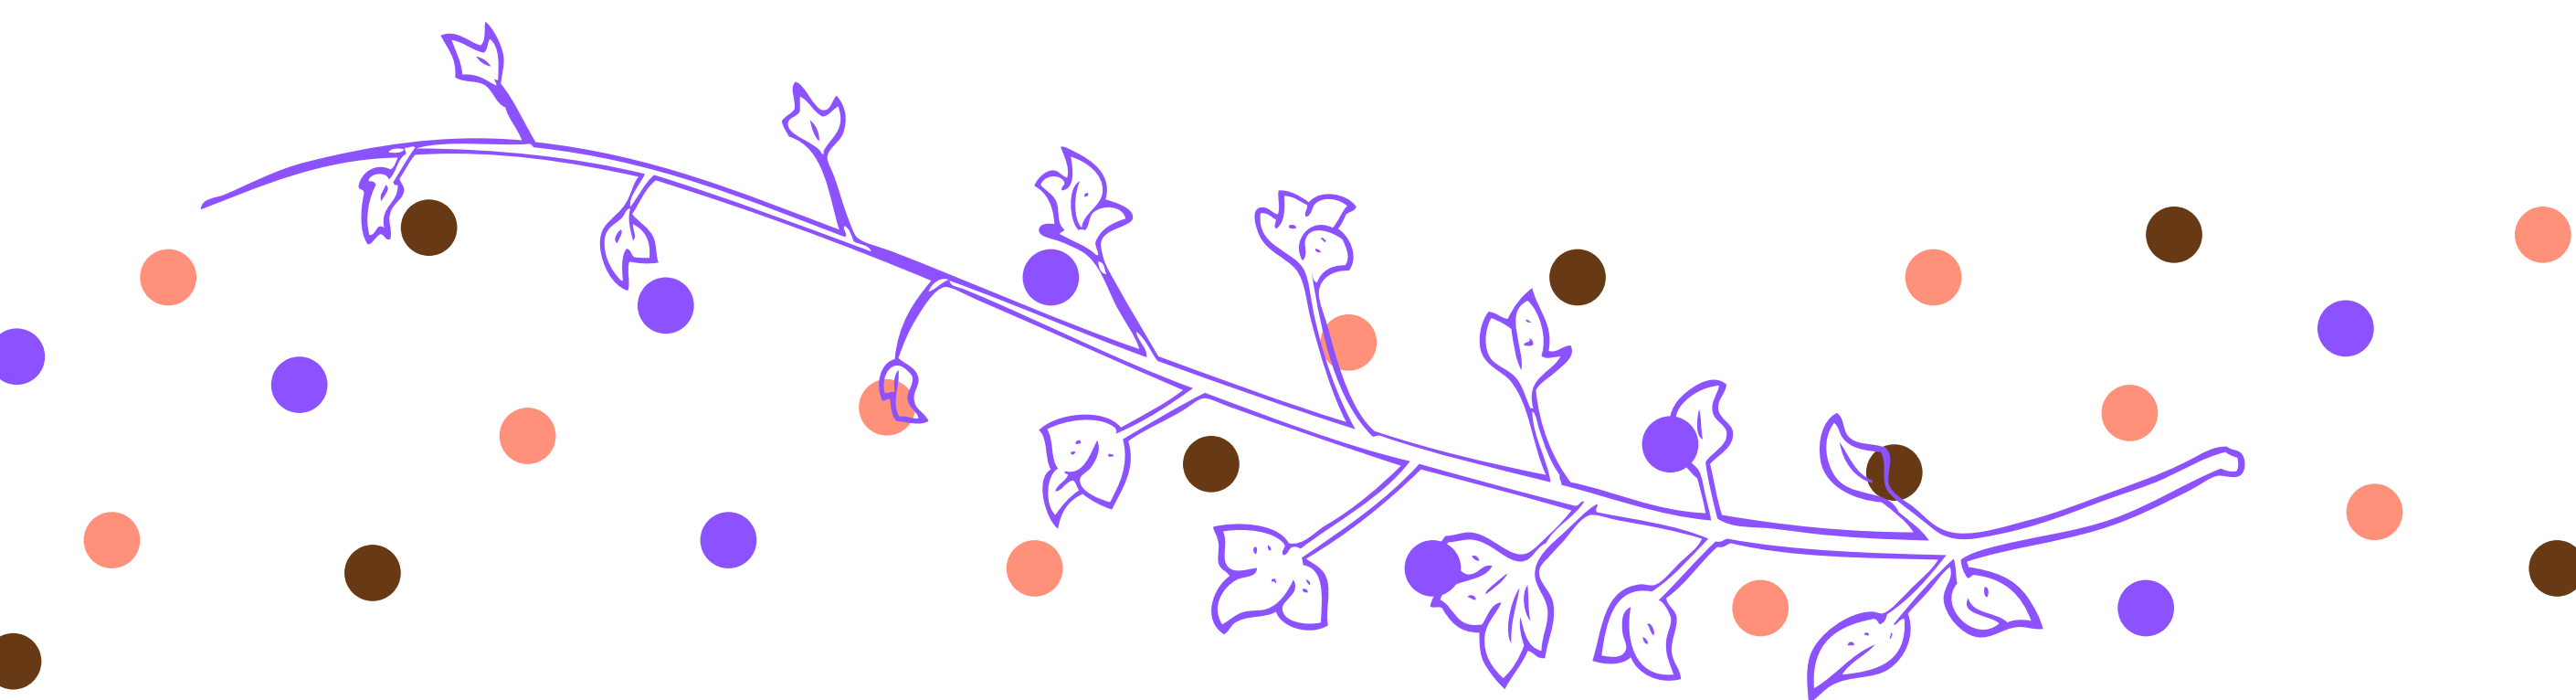

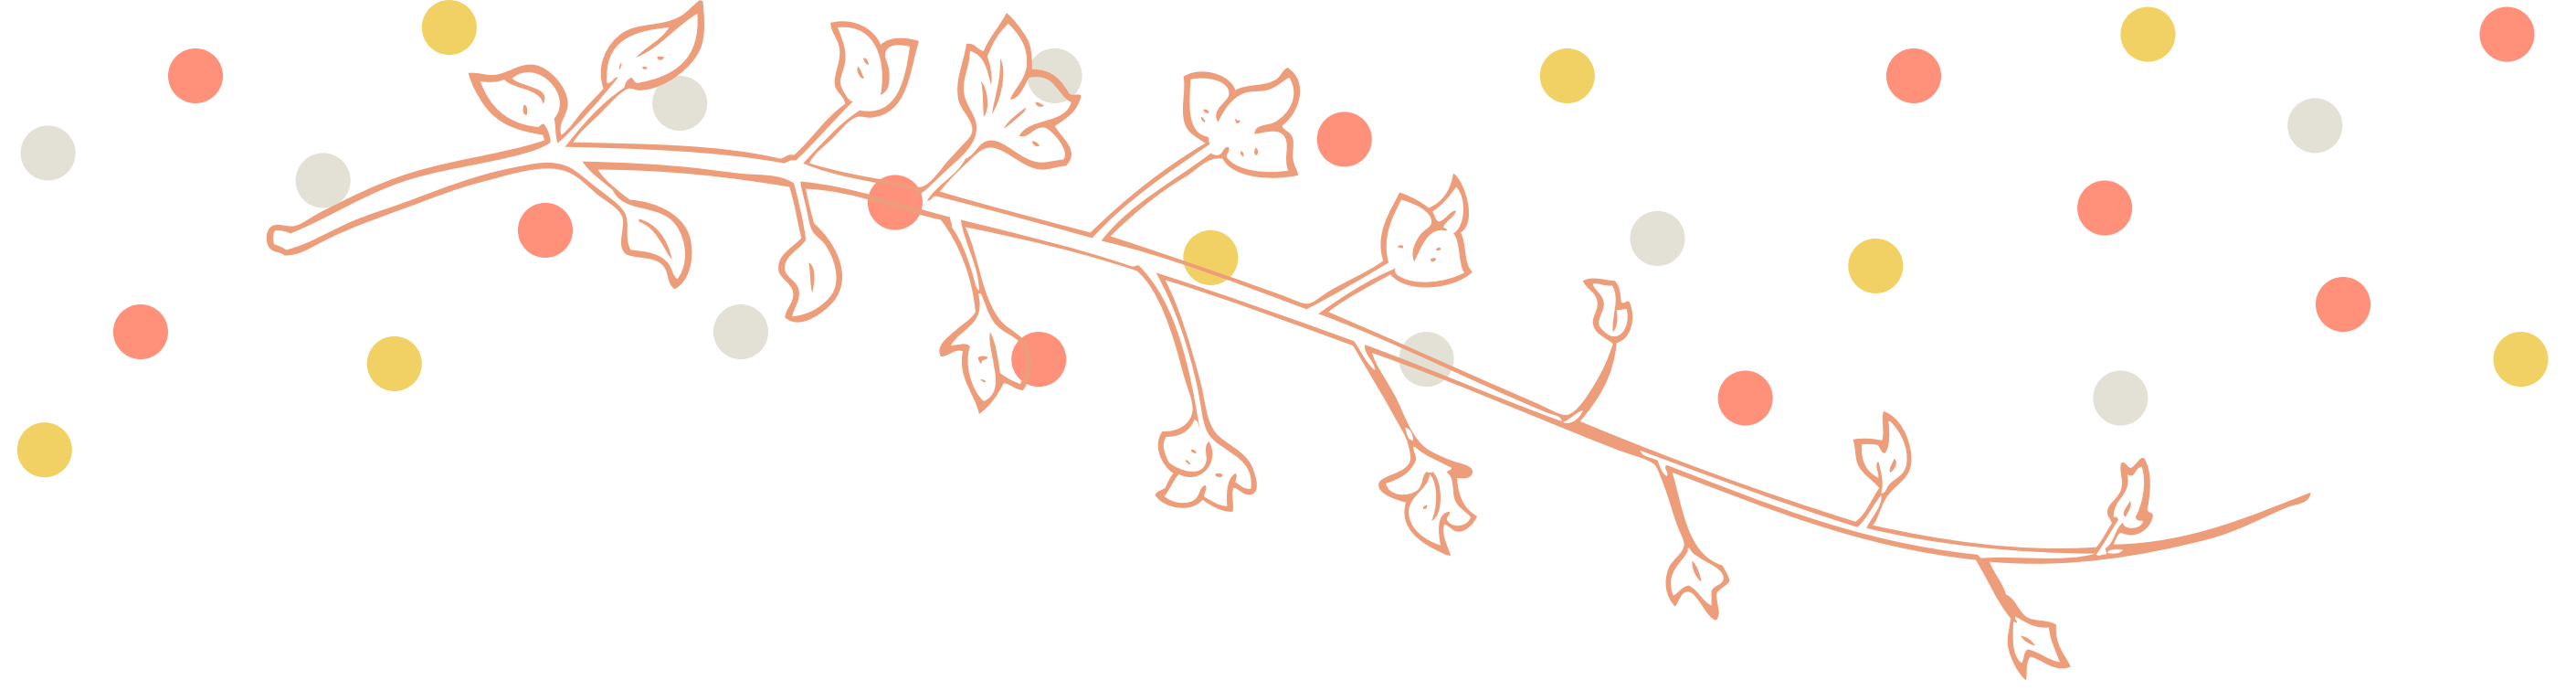

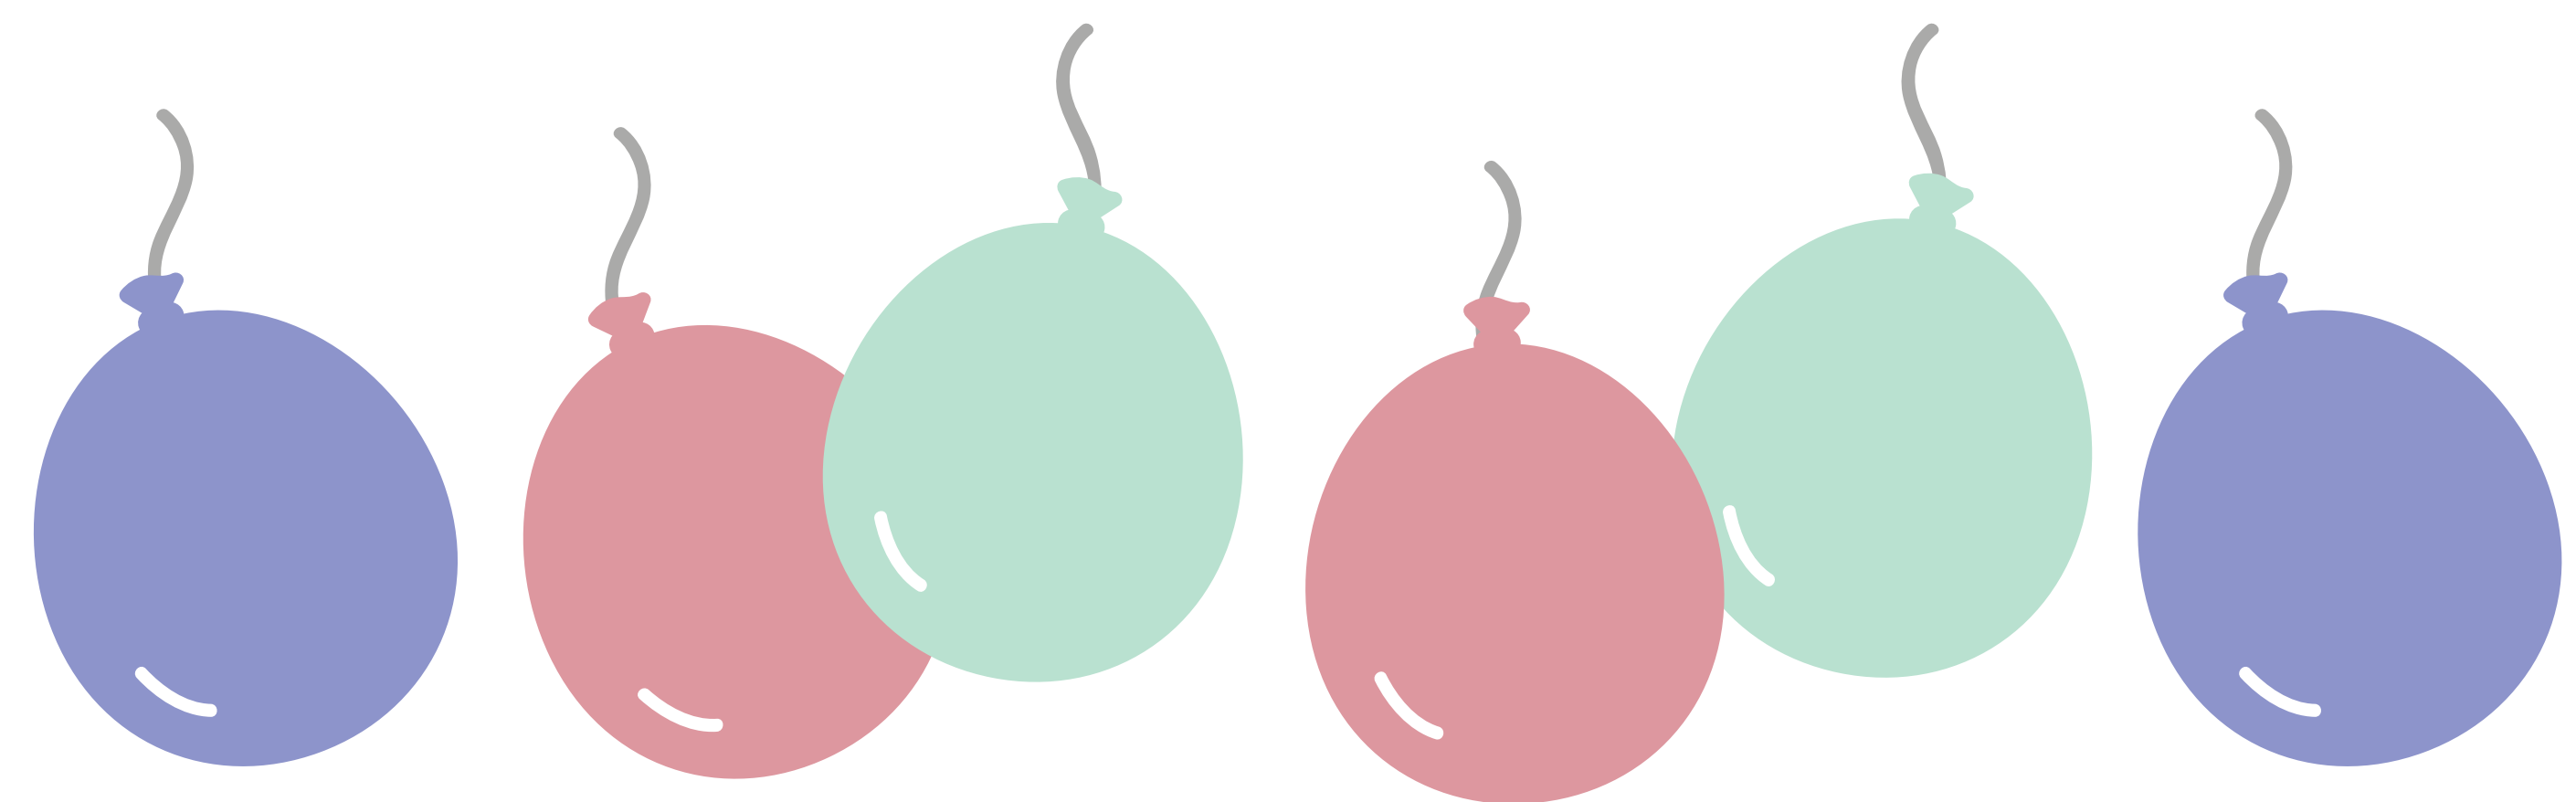

Writing is an

Amazing

journey of self-discovery and growth

